ECO358 - Problem Set 2

Clearly state the formula/procedure/approach that you have used to obtain your results; the approach is more important than the result. If an explanation is required, write brief answers; the probability of writing something wrong is higher in long answers. Fuzzy logic, ambiguity and multiple answers will reduce your credit.

1 Portfolio theory [8 points]

Consider the table below with expected returns, volatilities, and correlations.