LIN204H1F English Grammar
Midterm Assessment Answers Ver. 1

Part I: True or False

Instructions: Write T(rue) or F(alse) in the underlined space next to each question.

F 1. Personal pronouns only mark person, number, and gender.
F 2. Mental grammar is the knowledge that a speaker has of a language.
F 3. Descriptivism catalogs the properties of a language (as it should be spoken).
T 4. A verb is always finite if it is the only verb in a sentence.
F 5. Roots are free morphemes.
F 6. In suppletion, a morpheme is replaced by an entirely different morpheme in order to indicate a change in word class.
T 7. The predicate is everything outside of the subject.
T 8. Morphology can be defined in terms of a field of study and as a property of language.
T 9. Conversion can be viewed as a type of derivation.
T 10. A reciprocal pronoun and its antecedent must be in the same clause.