Problem Set 2 Solutions

Casper Lee

March 2024

1 Question 1

Let's formally define what we want. In general, the definition of the limit states that we want δ such that $|x - c| < \delta \implies |f(x) - L| < \epsilon$.

This is a specific case of a limit, so we can plug in almost all of these values.